CHILLING WAR FOR SOFIA'S FROZEN TEST TUBE TOTS!

GET this! Sofia Vergara and her former lover, Nick Loeb, are in a court fight over custody of their unborn children!

The Modern Family sexpot and the spoiled rich guy froze a couple of embryos they planned to use to start a family via a surrogate. But their relationship exploded in May 2014, leaving the female babies-to-be in chilly limbo.

Now, sources say Nick believes life starts at conception and wants to make sure "his babies" aren't destroyed, sparking a legal battle filed under the names John and Jane Doe.

'Loser'

Nick, a 39-year-old trust fund kid and businessman, also accuses the Latina spitfire of abusing him "physically, emotionally and mentally" by punching him in the face, calling him a "loser" and other things.

But a pal close to Sofia, 42, says, "She never got physical with Nick. Did they fight? Yes, and a lot, which is why they broke up."

And it seems that the fireworks will continue in court.

According to the lawsuit, while they were still together, Nick tried to get Sofia to agree that the embryos would go to the survivor if one of them died - but she ignored the request. Now, she's refusing to "agree to their preservation under all circumstances."

The onetime lovebirds' on/off relationship lasted four stormy years. Sofia has since gotten engaged to True Blood hunk Joe Manganiello. Word is Nick is jealous and simply trying to make trouble for his ex.

"If these embryos are implanted into a surrogate, Nick would almost certainly go after Sofia for child support," notes another source. "She just wants the embryos destroyed."

GAY BARRY MANILOW'S FIRST WIFE REVEALED!

Singer just married a GUY but he broke THIS WOMAN'S HEART

SINGER Barry Manilow just tied the knot with his gay lover after 35 years of togetherness, but the Copacabana singer also had a brief marriage to a woman and broke her heart!

A year after graduating in 1961, then-geeky Manilow eloped with petite 19-year-old brunette Susan Deixler, “the most popular girl in” Brooklyn’s Eastern District High School, says former classmate David Shapiro.

They got hitched at City Hall, but after her parents found out, “they insisted Barry and Susan get married in a proper Jewish ceremony performed by a rabbi,” says Shapiro.

Susan Deixler was 19 when she wed Barry right out of high school in 1961. She's now 70 and a holistic healer

‘I’m happy for him. I’m glad he’s found love and happiness’

Manilow, 71, described her as the “perfect wife...adorable, small with great legs and a voluptuous figure” in his biography.

But he left her high and dry less than a year after they tied the knot. He claimed he was going on “this wondrous musical adventure.”

The break was shattering and bitter. “She reacted badly of course,” says the classmate. “She told him he could only take his clothes. But he insisted on having his piano too and she relented.”

Deixler never married again. Now age 70, the mom of two children, Pauline, 41, and

Barry sports a wedding ring. He married his manager, Garry Kief

Danny, 36, she works as a holistic healer in Point Reyes Station, north of San Francisco.

The bitterness of her marriage, which Manilow had annulled in 1966, has faded. Hearing he got hitched to his longtime partner-manager Garry Kief, 66, she says she wishes him “only the best.”

Secret crush

A friend says Kief was reluctant to wed the singer for years because he didn’t want to be “Mrs. Manilow.” He feared Barry would lose fans – many are middle-aged women with a secret crush on the song writer.

But first wife Deixler says, “I’m happy for him. I’m glad he’s found love and happiness.”

As for their romance and brief time together, the high school sweetheart refuses to dish the dirt, saying: “What happened between us, our relationship, is ancient history, and I don’t want to dig back.”

“I’m glad he’s found love and happiness...I really am.”

DYING QUEE HEART SURG DRAMA!

Desperate Monarch sends note to William and new mom Kate - FROM AMBULANCE

QUEEN Elizabeth cheated death as she eagerly awaited the birth of William and Kate's new baby, sources tell GLOBE in a shocking world exclusive.

Just hours after the Monarch was out horseback riding in a park, insiders say she suddenly suffered agonizing chest pains and collapsed.

As police escorted an ambulance and raced through busy London traffic, insiders say the Queen was administered oxygen.

Afraid she was dying, the medics frantically called a private clinic and ordered the staff there to prepare a unit for emergency surgery.

"One of her physicians was convinced Her Majesty needed surgery and a stent to unblock an artery," a source tells GLOBE. "It was a top-secret mission. The Queen herself ordered that no one must know Fortunately, continues the source, the pain subsided and the Queen's breathing became easier. Even though her blood pressure was abnormally high at 192 over 112, she insisted on having the surgery postponed.

While stricken, she told an aide nearby the ambulance to urgently deliver a handwritten letter to Kate, 33.

"That's why William and Kate were among the first to know of the heart drama," says a source close to Kate.

"Incredibly, the Queen wrote the letter almost two years ago. Its exact contents are private but its message is known – it's an assurance that William will be the next King of England, and Kate will be his Queen.

Another insider notes the Queen, whose 89th birthday was April 21, has been fighting to change Britain's constitution to assure William and Kate – not her eldest son, Charles, and his second wife, Camilla – will be next to sit on the throne.

"She has done everything in her power to guarantee Charles will never wear the crown with Camilla by his side," says the source. "The letter to Kate was a record of her efforts, delivered on the very day she believed she was about to pass on."

The horror NEVER ENDS!

Kids dug from Oklahoma bombing rubble are STILL SUFFERING

SIX day care kids who miraculously survived the Oklahoma City bombing are still struggling to rebuild their lives 20 years after the cowardly attack by a homegrown terrorist.

The massive blast that ripped apart the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building on April 19, 1995, left Nekia McCloud, then a toddler, with severe brain injuries.

Now age 24, her developmental problems persist. She works at the Dale Rogers Training Center for the mentally challenged but sticks close to her protective mom, Lavern.

HILLARY CLINTON is hiding a deadly medical bombshell from America – she has suffered TWO secret strokes!

But she is so ruthless in the pursuit of her dream to become America's first woman President in 2016, she is lying about her health – and defying doctors who have warned her the rigors of the grueling 18-month campaign will KILL her!

The 67-year-old has also kicked husband and former President Bill Clinton to the campaign curb because he fears for her life and keeps begging her, "Quit now!"

"She is ignoring doctors who are telling her, 'Running for President will kill you.' She believes she was put on Earth for this and there's no convincing her otherwise."

That's the real reason Bill's been sidelined in her campaign.

"Bill's pleaded with her, but Hillary simply won't be stopped," says the source.

Hillary is so cold-blooded and desperate about achieving her dream, she's concocted a massive cover-up to hide the truth about her health.

But in a world exclusive, GLOBE can reveal she's physically falling apart and is

She "fainted" while speaking in Buffalo, N.Y., in 2005.

In 2009, the then Secretary of State broke her right elbow in a mysterious fall in a U.S. State Department garage.

And two years later, the politician claimed she merely slipped or tripped when she collapsed while boarding a flight in Yemen.

But GLOBE has learned the fall was actually due to a mini-stroke!

And Hillary orchestrated yet another massive cover-up following her frightening fall at her Washington, D.C., home in 2012. That time she hit her head.

RUTHLESS HILLARY WILL USE ANYONE TO GAIN POWER!

AMBITIOUS Hillary Clinton is so determined to become the next Commander-in-Chief, she's willing to use anything and anyone in her push for the White House - including pushing daughter Chelsea to give her a grandchild, say sources.

"Don't think that Chelsea having her first baby seven months ago was by chance," says an insider.

"It was part of a carefully crafted plan by Hillary as she plotted to achieve her greatest ambition - to be the first female President of America.

"Baby Charlotte is her secret weapon! And she's milking that infant for everything she can get."

Sources say Hillary sneakily urged Chelsea and her husband, Marc Mezvinsky, to get pregnant so she could parade before the public as a caring grandmother.

Chelsea and baby are JUST PAWNS

"She's become grandma - telling voters having Charlotte in her life has made her think deeply about the responsibility they all share about making the world a better place," says the insider.

"She is using Chelsea's baby to soften her image and take the edge off all the scandals that plague her."

She's being attacked for the Americans who died in Benghazi, her friendship with an accused Egyptian terrorist, payments she took from moneymen who fund terrorism, and the national security secrets she put at risk with her private e-mail account when she was Secretary of State.

Hillary is using granddaughter Charlotte in her campaign

But she figures little Charlotte will counter her critics.

"Hillary has to get people to trust her - and she believes using Chelsea and Charlotte is the key," says the source.

"She will use everything and everybody to fulfill her high school dream of becoming President."

Adds another source, "Hillary wants Chelsea on the campaign trail, too. Having Chelsea and Charlotte involved will make Hillary look younger and give a Kennedy-like 'Camelot' touch to the campaign."

"But when it comes to her strokes, there's stony silence! She wants to make believe they never happened!"

That's why Bill isn't blindly backing her run. "He knows how serious the 2012 incident was," says the source.

At the time, Hillary tried to downplay her problems by returning to work just days after being hospitalized. "But it really took her six months to recover from the health crisis," the source says.

The Lucy memorial (pictured at the bottom of this page) has zombie-like eyes and a deranged, toothy grin. No wonder people call it Scary Lucy.

Seriously, I've seen roadkill look more like Lucy than this monstrosity! (In this issue, we pay tribute to Lucy on pages 36-37.)

The sculptor now says: "I am willing to put my time and money into redoing the Lucy sculpture and feel confident... I can do a much better job."

I have a better idea: Pick it up, move it to Seattle, stick it in front of an elementary school and call it Mary Kay Letourneau.

Let me know what you think!

GAY ROCK WAS A TOTAL WIMP!

Ravaged Rock in 1984

ROCK HUDSON could play a he-man in movies, but the notoriously gay actor wasn't tough enough to keep his men.

And that's the main reason one of his male lovers hit the road.

"I wanted a father figure and he was not strong enough," reveals Lee Garlington, who carried on a steamy relationship with the Pillow Talk star from 1962 to 1965. "Rock wasn't a real strong personality."

Garlington, now a 77-year-old retired stockbroker, was a film extra when he met the hunky leading man on the Universal Studios lot. Hudson was featured in flicks with Doris Day and Liz Taylor.

"I was scared to death," says Garlington of his first visit to Hudson's Beverly Hills mansion. "He was 6-foot-4, a monster."

Garlington admits nothing

happened that first date because he was too intimidated by Hudson, who was at the height of his fame as Hollywood's leading man. But soon, he says, he was regularly spending the night at Hudson's house before slipping away early in the morning.

"I'd sneak out at 6 a.m. in my Chevy Nova and coast down the street without turning on the engine so the neighbors wouldn't hear," says Garlington. He says he was trying to keep the gay romance secret because in those days, "nobody in their right mind came out of the closet. It was career suicide. We all pretended to be straight."

The two lost touch after their split, and Garlington says he was "shocked" to hear that Hudson had AIDS, which killed him at age 59 in 1985.

Later, he was surprised to read in Hudson's biography that the star called him his "true love."

Says Garlington, "I had no idea I meant that much to him."

When called out for breaking her vow, Gwyn's rep explained she actually finished the challenge - she just didn't get around to posting the photo until later in the week. Uh-huh.

With a knack for witty one-liners and a shared interest with Ronald McDonald, the pint-sized judge reigns supreme as TV's highest paid star.

Here are 10 things you didn't know about the 72-year-old gal behind the gavel:

10 THINGS YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT JUDGE JUDY

1. Born Judith Blum in Brooklyn, N.Y., in 1942, she loved to argue so much her dentist dad thought she'd become a politician.

2. She rakes in a whopping $47 million a year, making her America's highest paid TV personality - that's a lot of money considering she only works 52 DAYS a year.

3. She is a self-appointed protector of the English language. One of her biggest pet peeves is when someone pronounces library as "library."

4. Her husband Jerry Sheindlin served two years as judge over The People's Court.

Judy has resource to smile - she gets paid nearly $1 million a day to be ornery!

5. In real life, Judy was appointed to the bench as a judge in the Family Court in 1982 by New York Mayor Edward Koch and she quickly made a name for herself.

6. Her classic - and often ruthless - barbs are all made up on the spot. Nothing she says on the bench is scripted.

7. Her star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame is situated next to Sidney Poitier.

8. The fiery jurist show was originally titled Hot Bench.

9. Judy popped the question to her husband. They wed in 1977, divorced in 1990 and remarried the following year.

NASCAR speed queen Danica Patrick is ready to race down the aisle with fellow driver Ricky Stenhouse Jr.

Asked by legendary racer Darrell Waltrip what she'd say if Stenhouse proposed "right now," she answered full-throttle, "YES!"

That's one heck of a U-turn from 2013 when Danica and Ricky's romance almost hit the wall after he made her crash at the Coca Cola 600 in Charlotte, N.C.

Their relationship appeared doomed, but Danica, who divorced her first hubby amid a cheating scandal, later calmed down, saying, "If it's crazy to want to go to sleep next to the person who ran your car off the road...then I'm certifiable!"

DEAD

WANTED

Mexican drug cartel helped mastermind of Paris massacre cross the border

THE world's most wanted femme fatale – France's "Bikini Babe Terrorist" – is hiding in Detroit planning another bloody attack here, warn top security experts!

The ability of bloodthirsty Hayat Boumeddiene, 26, to hide in plain sight as a regular girl-next door – by simply ditching her veil and burka – is what scares police most.

"Women are not seen to be a threat, but they're more deadly and cunning than their male terrorist counterparts," says a security source.

Boumeddiene masterminded the deadly Jan. 7 attack on magazine offices and a grocery store in Paris. But she was able to fly under the radar and escape because she's not as easily identifiable as male bearded male extremists.

Instead of covering up in burkas and hiding behind closed doors like Muslim wives, she wore bikinis, worked as a store clerk and partied with pals.

Now, she's believed to have fled France and sneaked into the U.S. where she's plotting more horror.

"Intelligence operatives suspect she's being hidden by radicals in Detroit and planning another bloodbath," says a top security analyst.

French authorities accuse her of playing a key role in the deadly attacks by her husband Amedy Coulibaly and their friends Cherif and Said Kouachi in Paris.

On that bloody day, the Kouachi brothers forced their way into the offices of the satirical magazine Charlie Hebdo and massacred 12 people.

Later, a few miles across the city, Hayat's hubby, Coulibaly, shot a man who was jogging. The following day, he killed a policewoman and then stormed a Jewish supermarket before being killed by police.

Intelligence officials believe Boumeddiene turned her husband into a ticking terrorist time bomb with a powerful mix of sex and radical religious teachings.

Now, security experts fear she's been smuggled into the U.S. through the border between El Paso, Texas, and Cuidad Juarez, Mexico, where ISIS has an active cell trading guns and other weapons to drug cartels.

"It would be comparatively easy for her to be moved to bigger cities like Detroit, Chicago or New York where her activities would not be apparent," says a retired military specialist in counterterrorism.

"The big concern is that Boumeddiene is already here recruiting for another terror campaign against 'soft' targets."

AMERICAN WOMEN BUSTED FOR JOINING MUSLIMS PLOTTING U.S. BLOODBATH!

FOLLOWING the Paris horror, evil terrorists are hungry for more Western blood and have been recruiting females in the U.S. eager to do their bidding. Now, three American women have been busted recently by the feds.

Queens, N.Y., roommates Asia Siddiqui, 32, and Noelle Velentzas, 28, a preschool teacher, were arrested late last month and charged with actively supporting ISIS, the Islamic monsters who made headlines beheading innocent American and British journalists last year.

According to the FBI, the women were in contact with ISIS killers and began stockpiling bomb parts and identifying targets for savage attacks in New York City! Only the intervention of an undercover agent prevented bloodshed, lawmen say.

And days later, feds collared Philadelphia Keonna "Fatayat Al Khilafah" Thomas, 30, who was arrested for trying to travel to Syria to train for ISIS's war on America.

On chilling Internet posts sent to an ISIS fighter, Thomas allegedly bragged "cutting off heads" is a "more personal" punishment for Western spies. She's facing 15 years in the slammer while the women from Queens could get life sentences.

Says an analyst, "ISIS is determined to put a dagger in America's heart - and the shame is many people born here want to help them!"

AARON HERNANDEZ's smug smile has been wiped off his face for good!

The tarnished pro football star will be put on suicide watch as he starts a life term for the ruthless 2013 murder of another jock, Odin Lloyd, 27.

After his April 15 conviction, Hernandez was sentenced to life – without the possibility of parole. He'll do his time in a prison about a mile away from the stadium where he once played for the New England Patriots.

That could push the former tight end, who had a $40 million five-year contract, over the edge, experts say.

Even during his football heyday, Hernandez "exhibited signs of self-destructive behavior," famed Beverly Hills behavioral expert Dr. Lillian Glass tells GLOBE. "Now that he's going to prison knowing he'll never see the light of day again, he's a bigger danger to himself than ever."

Hernandez went from football hero to one of the most hated athletes ever after it became obvious he blew away

Lloyd. The victim was dating the sister of Hernandez's fiancée, Shayanna Jenkins, but lawmen did not provide a motive for the murder.

Free Pass

The coward tried to blame a couple of pals for the shooting, but the jury saw through his pathetic lies.

Jenkins and the creep's mother Terri were the only ones crying when the verdict was announced after jurors deliberated for 36 hours. It was the first time his celebrity status wasn't enough to win him a free pass. He was arrested for a series of violent incidents beginning in 2007, but avoided prosecution.

Hernandez, 25, was also convicted of several firearm violations. He will also now stand trial for the 2012 drive-by shooting death of two men in Boston, allegedly over a spilled drink in a bar.

But Glass wonders if he'll even make it that far.

"It's common for murderers to immediately be placed on suicide watch after sentencing," she says. "But in Hernandez's case, it appears it will only be a matter of when, not if, he will attempt to kill himself."

"Hernandez is a suicide waiting to happen."

PULP FICTION

NOTHING'S MORE PAINFUL THAN LOSING A CHILD

HE was Oscar-nominated for his roles in 1977's Saturday Night Fever and 1994's Pulp Fiction and has several more blockbusters under his belt.

But John Travolta's latest movie, The Forger, hits home in a personal way.

Pulp Fiction killers John Travolta and Samuel L. Jackson

He stars as an art thief who agrees to forge a Monet painting as part of a heist – so he can spend precious time with his son who has stage 4 cancer.

Travolta sadly knows the agony of losing a child in real life. His autistic son, Jett, 16, died in 2009 after a seizure while on vacation with the family in the Bahamas.

In this interview with a freelance journalist, Travolta, 61, wed to actress Kelly Preston, 52, his wife of 24 years and the father of Ella Bleu, 15, and Benjamin, 4, talks about financial freedom and his secret painting.

Devastated by the death of 16-year-old son Jett (above), Travolta says he's had to move on

Q: But you have the financial freedom to do what you like to do these days, right?

A: If Hollywood gave me one gift, it was that at my age I'm able to do things that really inspire and excite me – or not!

Q: Is playing a painter close to your heart?

A: Yes, it truly is. My grandfather was a painter, my dad made me paint, too. I studied a little bit of water colors years ago.

Q: What's the last thing you painted?

A: I started my own Monet, a lady with a parasol at the beginning of The Forger, during rehearsal, and it took the whole film to finish it.

Q: How do you cope with the loss of your son, Jett, today?

A: There is nothing more painful in life than losing your child. Nothing. You need to be able to grieve and be surrounded by family and friends to deal with it. I didn't want to become bitter or cynical. I had to move on – and I did.

Q: Do you still have to make movies?

A: I like to be involved. I want to stay active. And movies still make me happy. I like being on a set, creating something new. It's fun.

LIAR BRIAN USES PUPPY - TO REMAKE HIS IMAGE!

And hometown wants to ERASE his face from welcome sign

DISGRACED NBC news anchor Brian Williams finally broke cover in New York City for a warm and fuzzy photo op – complete with his family and a fluffy puppy – in the hopes we'll all forget he's a low-down liar!

Humiliating gaffes

Savvy cynics speculate the outing was scripted to help rehabilitate his image as the network decides his future. A former colleague, NBC's chief medical editor Dr. Nancy Snyderman, got the heave-ho earlier this year after a series of humiliating gaffes. Now, the word is Williams is a goner, too.

Certainly, he's persona non grata in his hometown of Elmira, N.Y. The burg where the newsman was raised wants his image removed from a sign welcoming visitors to their town of 29,000 citizens!

The sign, erected in 2003, also includes likenesses of author Mark Twain, astronaut Eileen Collins, abolitionist John Jones and fashion designer Tommy Hilfinger, who have ties to the community.

Mayor Sue Skidmore has been flooded with calls to get rid of truth-challenged Williams, who was feared to be suicidal after the scandal broke. Says the mayor, "I understand people's point of view that it is a negative against Elmira."

JAMES BOND: FOR WHITE GUYS ONLY?

Yaphet Kotto in Live and Let Die

BLACK actor Yaphet Kotto blew a fuse when he heard another black star, British actor Idris Elba, was being considered to take over as super-spy James Bond.

Idris Elba (left) was rumored to be taking Daniel Craig's place

Kotto – who played Bond nemesis Dr. Kananga in 1973's Live and Let Die – says 007 should ALWAYS be portrayed by a white actor!

"Bond was established as a white character," argues Kotto. "I don't think it's right for black actors to do...historically white roles. Political correctness be damned!"

And Kotto's comment follows former Bond Roger Moore's moronic remark that Elba, 42, is not "English-English" enough for the coveted part.

Now, Elba, best known for playing drug dealer Russell "Stringer" Bell in HBO's The Wire, figures he's out of contention for the role when Daniel Craig calls it quits.

"If there was a chance of me getting Bond," he says, "it's gone."

SINATRA WAS MONROE'S LOVER — AND HER PIMP!

Ol' Blue Eyes & Marilyn insisted their twisted romance was 'much better than marriage'

PART 3
OF AN EXCLUSIVE
4-PART SERIES!

This year marks the 100th anniversary of Frank Sinatra's birth in Hoboken, N.J. In an explosive four-part series, GLOBE reveals the deepest secrets of Ol' Blue Eyes' legendary life. Here, in part three, we expose the American legend's twisted romance with Marilyn Monroe. In the final installment next week, we detail his nasty celebrity feuds. Don't miss a single word!

FRANK SINATRA and Marilyn Monroe were made for each other.

Both were cynical, addicted to power and fame, promiscuous — and terribly tortured. So it's no wonder Frank and Marilyn were best buddies and off-and-on lovers.

"They used each other regularly and without remorse," their mutual friend, actor Peter Lawford, revealed before his death in 1984.

"But there was real affection between them. Frank and Marilyn were deeply in love, but it wasn't a traditional kind of thing.

"He passed her around among his powerful friends. And she didn't seem to mind or care who he slept with. It was mutually convenient.

"She liked Frank's influence and the way he introduced her to the rich and powerful. He liked the status of having the → world's sexiest woman at his beck and call."

FRANK CRIED LIKE A BABY WHEN SHE DIED

It seems the two were fated to meet.

As Sinatra biographer James Kaplan notes in Frank: The Voice, the crooner was born on MONROE STREET in Hoboken, N.J. Meanwhile, Hollywood types reveal young Marilyn thought Sinatra's singing was "dreamy" and was excited after bumping into Frank at a party in the early 1950s.

But Sinatra was a toxic cocktail for the insecure actress.

Pimped her out

Until her mysterious death at age 36, Frank shared her bed, guided her career and pimped her out like a luscious dessert to men he wanted to impress and ingratiate himself with. The list included Mafia bigwigs, Marilyn's second hubby, New York Yankees slugger Joe DiMaggio, and, of course, the Kennedy brothers, Jack and Bobby.

"When she was depressed and suicidal over failed romances, Frank gave her a shoulder to cry on. He'd try to heal her broken heart," said Lawford. "When he was heartsick and suicidal – particularly over his divorce from Ava Gardner – she was there for him."

"But he was ruthless with her, too. He knew how to control her."

Insiders reveal Sinatra tricked the Some Like It Hot sex symbol into posing for embarrassing photographs he then kept to stop her talking about his secrets –

DANGEROUS FRIENDS

TRAGIC END

Marilyn's body is wheeled from her home and the pillow talk she learned partying with Mafia pals like Lucky Luciano and Chicago crime boss Sam Giancana – or the Kennedys.

But he treated her well at times, winning her affections with gifts like a white puppy. He gave her the dog after she lost her pet in a divorce settlement with third hubby Arthur Miller, the playwright.

She called the pooch “Maf,” short for Mafia, which ticked off Sinatra. But Monroe loved to twist Sinatra’s tail. She delighted in getting under his skin, recalled Lawford.

Cold feet

At one point, the movie goddess even wanted to wed the Rat Pack’s Chairman of the Board. But he got cold feet.

Marilyn would later say the “best thing” about her relationship with Sinatra was that they “didn’t ruin it” by tying the knot.

But selfish Sinatra did things his way right up until the end – cruelly betraying Marilyn in the days before her death.

Sinatra had flown the troubled blonde to a party at his Cal-Neva Lodge and casino. She was in desperate straits. She’d just been fired by her studio in the middle of filming Something’s Got to Give and rejected by Bobby Kennedy, who she’d hoped would get a divorce and marry her.

Despite her heartache, Sinatra set her up for a sex romp with Mafia boss Giancana. During the weekend, he ordered her to clam up about Bobby – and told Monroe she was putting everything at risk.

“But Marilyn said she didn’t care. She threatened to give a press conference denouncing the Kennedys as liars and lechers,” said Lawford.

Then, the tragic Gentlemen Prefer Blondes star caused a very public scene.

Loaded on pills and champagne, Marilyn swept into a casino cocktail party “swaying about, all the guests were watching her with concern,” recalled singer Buddy Greco, who was a guest at the event.

“I looked at Frank. He was furious. Frank motioned to his bodyguards sharply to get her out of the room before she disgraced herself.

“She was escorted away angry and protesting.”

A few days later, on Aug. 5, 1962, Marilyn was found lying nude, face-down on her bed with a phone in one hand near an empty bottle of sleeping pills.

Although the official cause of death was “probable suicide,” word was she was murdered to protect the Kennedys.

Sinatra was guilt-ridden and devastated by regret. He “went to pieces when he learned Marilyn was dead,” said Lawford, who has been accused of covering up Monroe’s murder.

“He was racked by guilt and sorrow. He felt he’d let her down that weekend and helped dig her grave. But in the end, his relationship with her was pure poison – and DiMaggio banned us all from her funeral.”

SKIN CANCER SYMPTOMS YOU CAN'T IGNORE!

BEFORE you head out for some fun in the sun, take time to check your body for signs of deadly skin cancer!

It's the most common of all cancers with over 3.5 million patients treated each year.

An estimated 73,870 new cases of invasive melanoma, the deadliest form of skin cancer, will be diagnosed in 2015 alone.

"Anything on the skin that changes needs a biopsy," says Dr. Kenneth Beer, a leading Palm Beach, Fla. dermatologist.

Here are skin cancer symptoms you should never ignore:

- Bumps that are shiny, pearly or waxy.
- Areas that are flat, firm or pale.

A malignant melanoma is an aggressive cancer that can spread to other parts of the body

- Lesions that are flesh-colored or brown and scar-like.
- Firm, red nodules.
- Flat, rough, scaly or crusted lesions.
- Any new spot on the skin that changes in size, shape or color.
- Large brownish spots with darkened speckles.
- Small lesions with irregular borders.
- Dark lesions on palms, soles, fingertips, toes or even in the mouth.
- Firm, shiny or hard nodules around the eyes or on eyelids.
- Red or purplish patches may be a sign of Kaposi syndrome, a form of cancer that causes abnormal tissue to grow in the skin and other organs. - LYNN ALLISON

Losing sleep makes you fat

+ NEW research finds that lack of a good night's sleep increases the risk of serious weight gain or obesity by 50 percent. "Sleeping less than six hours in a 24 hour period means exposing oneself to risk of obesity, heart disease, accidents and depression," says Damien Leger, president of the French National Institute of Sleep and Vigilance. The study also found poor sleepers are likely to snack more, particularly at night when cravings peak.

Pomegranates stop Alzheimer's

+ A COMPOUND in tasty pomegranates called punicalagin cuts back on the inflammation that destroys brain cells, says researcher Dr. Olumayokun Olajide of the University of Huddersfield in England. Inflammation leads to destruction of brain cells, which in turn makes Alzheimer's progressively worse. The amount of pomegranate needed to fight the disease is still being studied, but Olajide recommends drinking 100 percent juice without added sugar.

Joint pain sufferers are better off with anti-inflammatory drugs

ACETAMINOPHEN WON'T WORK ON BACK PAIN OR ARTHRITIS!

ACETAMINOPHEN, an over-the-counter drug widely recommended to ease back pain and arthritis agony in knees and hips, works no better than a placebo when used to treat those conditions, a recent study reveals!

Australian researchers found taking the medication increased the risk of abnormal liver function by 400 percent!

Dr. Ellen Kamhi tells GLOBE the drug "has been linked to 26,000 hospitalizations, 100,000 calls to poison control centers 50,000 emergency room visits, and 450 deaths from liver failure each year!"

But North Carolina-based Dr. Kevin Campbell, explains "It is evident that back and joint pain are often caused by arthritis and should be treated instead by anti-inflammatory drugs."

Campbell notes acetaminophen, sold under the brand name Tylenol, is still one of the best medicines to reduce high fevers, particularly in infants and kids.

RAQUEL'S ABUSIVE DAD MADE LIFE HELL

RAQUEL WELCH was terrorized by her abusive dad, Armando, who once cut off her hair because he didn't want her to be "too girly."

When the budding bombshell was 13 and traded her braids for a curly do, bully Armando violently expressed his disapproval.

"He ran my head under a faucet," recalls Raquel, 74. "He said, 'Cut it! You're not having curls like that!' He didn't want me to be too girly."

"I was terrified of him."

Despite her fears, the buxom beauty who shot to fame wearing a fur bikini in 1966's One Million Years B.C., reveals she once threatened her dad with a fireplace poker after he threw milk all over her mom, Josephine.

Says Raquel, "My father was a tough customer."

ROD FINALLY ZIPS HIS LIPS

ROCKER Rod Stewart is so terrified of losing his raspy voice, he's going hours without speaking.

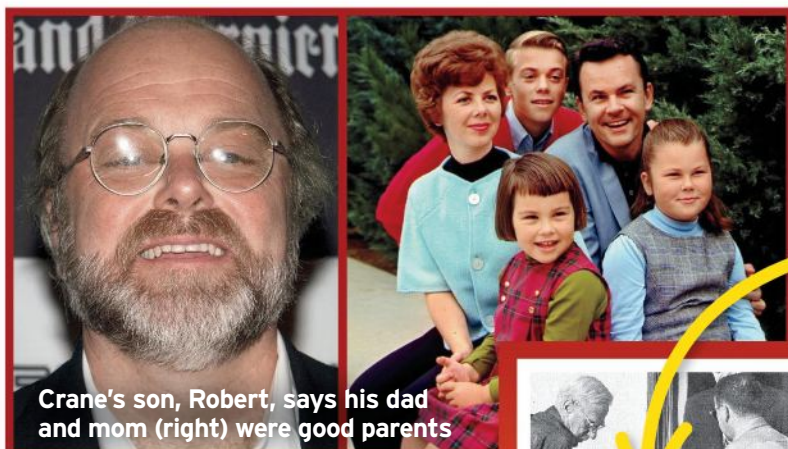

The 70-year-old Maggie May singer calls his voice "the crown jewels."

"I'm paranoid about it to the point that I'm drinking tons of water, getting plenty of sleep, not talking," he says.

His sons, Alistair, 9, and Aiden, 4, with third wife Penny, are mystified by his silence. He explains, "Mom has to tell them, 'Daddy can't talk right now, he's working.'"

TV legend's son breaks silence 37 years after kinky murder: MY DIRTY DAD BOB CRANE WAS NO HERO!

Crane's son, Robert, says his dad and mom (right) were good parents

MURDERED Hogan's Heroes star Bob Crane was so twisted, he introduced his teenage son to the X-rated lifestyle that is directly linked to the actor's bizarre and gruesome death.

In the book Crane: Sex, Celebrity and My Father's Unsolved Murder, Robert Crane reveals his father relished orgies and captured all the action on camera.

Robert was only 16 visiting the set of his father's hit 1960s sitcom, when he was exposed to Crane's sexploits with a woman who "did just about everything" on film right "before my unblinking teenaged eyes!"

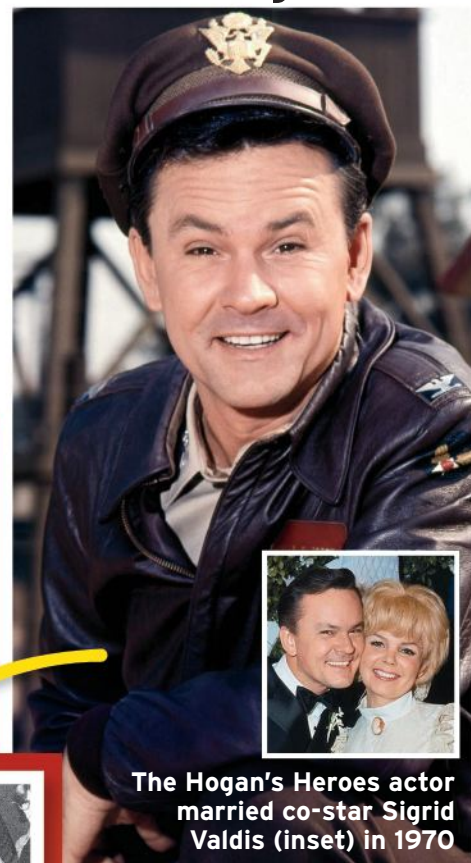

Now, Robert says, "This might have been my dad's clumsy, Hollywood way of having a 'birds and bees' talk with his coming-of-age son."

Certainly, the handsome star, who played wise-cracking U.S. Army Col. Robert E. Hogan, had a roomful of equipment to record his sexcapades. Word got out that the Hogan's set was the place to be for willing young wannabes to "audition."

His mom, Ana Marie, and father split in 1970, Robert writes, noting the actor's appetite for

Crane's 1978 murder in Scottsdale, Ariz., is detailed in Robert's book

The Hogan's Heroes actor married co-star Sigrid Valdis (inset) in 1970

kinky sex hit high gear after the bust-up.

When the classic comedy Hogan's Heroes, set in a German prisoner of war camp, ended in 1971, the elder Crane turned to live theater.

Ran screaming

He was in Scottsdale, Ariz., in June 1978 when his dinner theater co-star, Victoria Berry, ran screaming from his apartment. Crane's lifeless body was found lying on a bed clad only in boxer shorts, with an electrical cord tied around his neck.

There were gashes on his head and blood on the ceiling and wall. The room had been set up to film bedroom action.

The prime suspect – who was never convicted – was the victim's bisexual friend, John Henry Carpenter, whom Crane was going to ditch.

Says Robert, "The police figured that Carpenter was perhaps in love with my dad and reacted like a spurned lover." But officially the murder has never been solved.

NO SALVATION FOR JULIA'S TOXIC TOWN!

'FAT' BRITNEY SQUASHES CRITIC!

BRITNEY SPEARS is not a woman to be scorned, as an audience member who called her a "fat bitch" during her Piece of Me show in Las Vegas quickly found out!

The Toxic 33-year-old singer exploded after hearing the insult, branding the heckler, a "F***** a*****!"

The incident was caught on a video posted on the Internet. During the clip, Britney can be seen talking to a crowd at Planet Hollywood who cheer as the music begins for Till the World Ends.

As she walks away, the singer clearly hears the slur on her figure. Her immediate response - heard by everyone in the audience - should silence folks who complain about her pretending to sing during shows. Her mic was definitely on!

Erin Brockovich movie couldn't stop the rot

JULIA ROBERTS may have "saved" the contaminated community of Hinkley, Calif., in her Oscar-winning portrayal of environmental activist Erin Brockovich - but 15 years later the place is a ghost town.

"It was once full of such nice people," says local saloon owner Brenda McIlvain. "But I don't think Hinkley will ever be like it used to be."

Brockovich's famous crusade led to Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) shelling out $333 million for contaminating the Mojave desert town's groundwater with the cancer-causing chemical hexavalent chromium used at its natural gas facility.

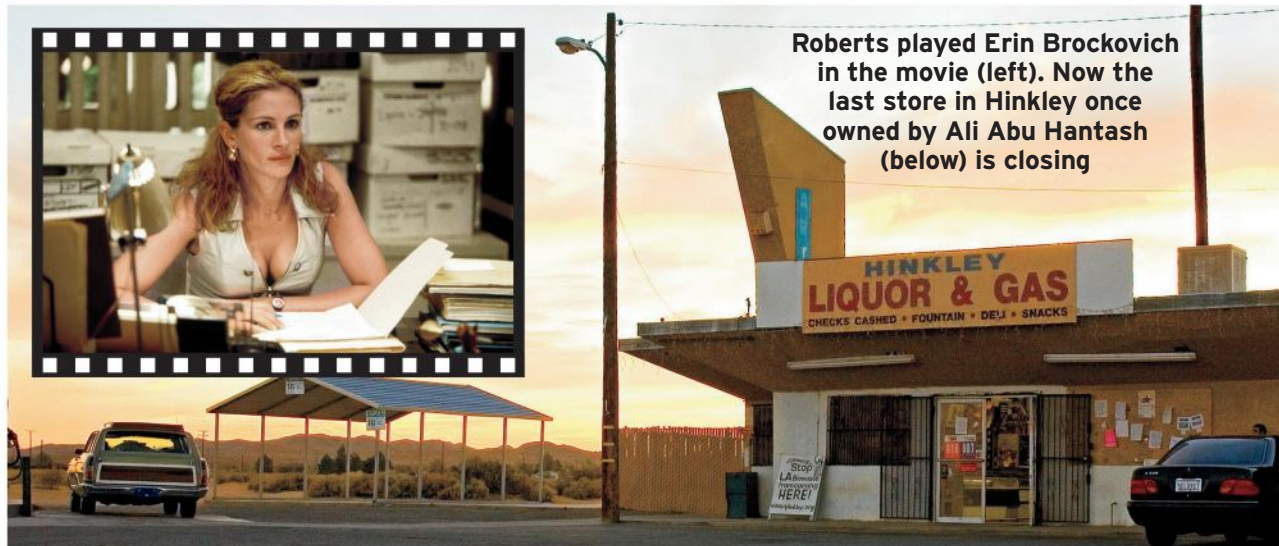

Director Steven Soderberg's 2000 movie Erin Brockovich was a smash hit, raking in more than $130 million worldwide and briefly reviving the town. But, sadly, there was destined to be no happy Hollywood ending for Hinkley.

Fearing more lawsuits, PG&E continued to buy

The real Erin Brockovich

Roberts played Erin Brockovich in the movie (left). Now the last store in Hinkley once owned by Ali Abu Hantash (below) is closing up land until it owned just about the whole town.

In June 2013, the local elementary school was shuttered due to dwindling enrollment, and the post office closed this past March.

Meanwhile, the only store and gas station in town - the Hinkley Market - was bought by PG&E and was slated to shut this month.

Says resident Lester White, "It's another blow to the community."

TOM BROKAW HIT BOTTLE AFTER BLOOD CANCER NEWS!

LEGENDARY NBC anchor Tom Brokaw turned to booze before breaking the news to his wife Marjorie that he had multiple myeloma, a rare incurable blood cancer.

"I made a drink, scotch on the rocks, showered, sat on the edge of the bed and said to her, 'There's something I've not told you...I have cancer...it is not curable but it is treatable, and they assure me that great progress is being made,' " says Brokaw, 75, who got the chilling diagnosis in 2013.

"I had rehearsed what I was going to say because I wanted to be precise, but also because I was struggling to deal with a strange tug of war between a new reality and a way of life I could not quite believe was slipping away from me."

RHINESTONE COWBOY SAYS LAST GOODBYE

YOU'D have to have a heart of stone not to well up watching the tear-jerking documentary, Glen Campbell: I'll Be Me, chronicling his heartbreaking battle with Alzheimer's disease.

Cameras followed the Rhinestone Cowboy singer as he toured America in 2011 after having just been diagnosed with the mind-wasting condition.

The Goodbye Tour was initially planned for a five-week run, but with his health stabilizing at first, along with a massive demand for tickets, it was expanded to 151 sold-out shows over 18 months.

Directed by James Keach, the film documents the struggle Campbell, his wife, Kim, and their family have endured as the illness progressed.

"Here's a guy, an iconic musician, who was faced with having to hang up his guitar, his career over, but instead, he says, 'I ain't done yet. I'm going out to show what this disease is,' " says Keach. "If that ain't a hero, I don't know what is."

Airing on CNN in June with an encore presentation in November, the film will also feature the five-time

Grammy-winner singing the bittersweet, I'm Not Gonna Miss You, written for his family during the early stages of his illness.

It carries the heartrending message that due to his Alzheimer's, he wouldn't feel the pain of his loved ones as he succumbed to the disease.

Meanwhile, Campbell was moved into an Alzheimer's facility last year because he could no longer be cared for at home.

"He is getting fantastic care and we get to see him every day," the family said in a statement. "We want to thank everyone for their continued prayers, love and support."

TV FACT

Although FOX pulled the plug on Red Band Society, actress Ciara Bravo was just 17 when she pocketed $20,000 a pop for the 13 episodes she played anorexic patient, Emma Chota.

REESE & NICOLE

MOVIE stars Nicole Kidman and Reese Witherspoon, are joining forces on the small screen.

The Oscar winners have signed up to headline in Big Little Lies. Still being shopped around, the limited series drama centers on three mothers of kindergartners whose perfect lives unravel to the point of murder that takes place during a disastrous parents' night at a school fund-raiser.

The casting of two Hollywood heavy-weights like Kidman and Witherspoon is a move aimed at emulating the success of Matthew McConaughey and Woody Harrelson, who teamed up for the hit HBO drama, True Detective.

Aside from playing Rachel's sister, Jill, on Friends in 2000, Witherspoon's new to TV, while Kidman had a small role in an Australian series 30 years ago.

MURDER MYSTERY

WORKING GIRL'S A GRANNY

MOVIE beauty Melanie Griffith is returning to regular weekly network television for the first time in a decade, playing a grandmother.

The 57-year-old actress has signed up to star in a new ABC comedy, formerly titled The Brains Bunch, inspired by the book from Kip and Mona Lisa Harding.

The sitcom centers on an attractive couple, who, through a combination of good genes and devoted home schooling, have raised genius children.

The Working Girl star plays Mona Lisa's mom Celeste, a former pageant queen who has invited her daughter's family to live with her in Orange County, Calif., to help their super-smart kids further their education.

CHARMED HUNK BATTLES ALIENS

Julian McMahon

Daisy Betts

ACTOR Julian McMahon, best known as Charmed's handsome Cole Turner, and Chicago Fire beauty Daisy Betts have returned Down Under to the country of their birth to film a six-hour science-fiction miniseries.

The pair signed on to star in the Syfy drama Childhood's End based on the popular book by 2001: A Space Odyssey author, Arthur C. Clarke.

McMahon plays an eccentric American entrepreneur named Rupert Boyce, while Betts - Rebecca Jones on "Fire" - portrays Ellie, an arts graduate engaged to marry the most influential human in the world.

The upcoming drama follows the peaceful invasion of Earth by the mysterious Overlords, whose arrival begins decades of apparent utopia - which comes at a cost of human identity and culture.

SERIAL BRIDE BUSTED AS GREEN CARD BIGAMIST!

Liana Barrientos admits to making money by marrying a man who only wanted a green card allowing permanent U.S. residency

NEVER a bridesmaid, always the bride!

A Bronx, N.Y., woman has been busted for marrying 10 men for money in a green card scam – and at one point was wed to eight of them at the same time.

Some of the grooms were even from “red-flagged” countries linked to terrorism, including Egypt, Turkey, Pakistan, Mali and Bangladesh. One “hubby” was deported for making threats against the United States!

Serial spouse

Incredibly, serial spouse Liana Barrientos, 39, claims she can only recall tying the knot with two guys.

“I don’t remember marrying any of the men except for Vakhtang Dzelade and Salle Keita,” she told investigators.

“I was in very bad shape, and I don’t remember much from that point in my life.”

Barrientos confessed to marrying Dzelade, who was born behind the Iron Curtain, for dough in 2002. He applied for a green card, which allows immigrants permanent U.S. residency, immediately after the ceremony. He became an American citizen in 2006.

“She admitted to marrying him, going to the immigration interview with him, giving him pictures, as well as other documentation and receiving money,” said Assistant District Attorney Jessica Lupo.

A source says citizenship marriage is a booming business, adding, “Scammers are making thousands depending on the need for the green card.”

PERCY SLEDGE WAS A CROOK!

Singer cheated Uncle Sam
OUT OF $95G's IN TAXES

SOUL legend Percy Sledge was a tax cheat!

That's the shocking secret the 74-year-old Rock and Roll Hall of Famer took to the grave when he died April 14 in Baton Rouge, La., after a battle with liver cancer.

The gap-toothed singer, who rocketed to stardom in 1966 with his emotional ballad When a Man Loves a Woman, pleaded guilty in 1994 to cheating the federal government out of more than $95,000 in taxes. He owed the cash after getting paid for live performances in the late 1980s.

Sledge was sentenced to five years of probation and parole, ordered to pay the hefty tax bill and serve six months in a Baton Rouge halfway house.

Sledge became an overnight sensation with "Woman," which was his first and biggest hit. The tune was ranked by Rolling Stone magazine as the 53rd greatest song of all time.

But for some reason, Sledge, who was performing with the Esquires Combo at small clubs and frat parties when he wrote the tune, gave away writing credit to bandmates Calvin Lewis and Andrew Wright.

Thousands of Plastic Surgeons Could Go Out of Business by 2017!

“When Dr. Oz featured phytoceramides on his TV show, he didn’t realize he might be responsible for putting thousands of doctors out of business.”

By Steph Weller

NEW YORK: Plastic surgeons are angry. And for good reason. The U.S. launch of the new “face-lift pill”, Dermex-P, might have them scrambling for new careers. Their “bread and butter” business; making older faces look young again, could go away tomorrow.

In a time when 50 is the new 30, the pressure to look younger is greater than ever. Perhaps this is why Americans spent over $12-billion on anti-aging products and procedures — just last year. A number that had doctors and cosmetic manufacturers doing a jig in 2014 — but “not for long!”

Doctor Oz Exposes Hollywood’s “Age-Curing” Miracle to the World!

When TV’s Doctor Oz featured phytoceramides (the key ingredient in Dermex-P) on his show, he didn’t realize the damage he was doing. Everything that Doctor Oz said about the ingredient was true. “This is no ‘old wives tale’. It’s a scientific fact! The clinical tests are indisputable,” said one industry insider. And that’s the problem. It works too well! And that’s exactly what has estheticians and the cosmetic industry so worried. That would mean products and services like facials, Botox® injections and other means of making yourself look younger could soon be obsolete.

According to Doctor Oz, a recent clinical study conducted at Osaka City University in Japan proved the effects of phytoceramides on 6 men and 27 women. Each had wrinkles, age lines and sagging skin conditions that made them look

Real Stories, Real Results

“My husband left me for a younger woman last year and he took my self-esteem with him,” says 50 year old Lydia S. of Tampa, Fl. “When I read an article about Dermex-P and how its main ingredient was clinically proven to restore a youthful appearance, I thought, “Why not?”. Lydia goes on to say with a smile, “What they say is true, living well is the best revenge. I have my confidence back and am dating men half my age. My friends and family cannot believe the difference!”

54 year old Joan from Phoenix, Arizona says “After using Dermex-P for four weeks, I looked in the mirror and felt like a 30 year old with 24 years of experience!”

years older than they actually were. Typically, their skin was dry, inelastic, wrinkled and old-looking.

The study concluded when administered daily, the phytoceramides used in Dermex-P would moisturize and hydrate old skin to identically mimic the skin of people in their early 20’s. Phytoceramides reverse wrinkles through a process called elastase suppression and collagen production. Simply put, Dermex-P plumps away wrinkles using your body’s own collagen. And keeps your skin moist and smooth much like a humidifier keeps cigars fresh.

Not a Cream, Cover-up or Surgical Procedure

Dermex-P isn’t a drug, a cosmetic, or a messy cream. Dermex-P is something completely different. There are no needles involved — you don’t even need a prescription for it.

“9-out-of-10 users report; people accuse them of having surgery” says researcher, Joel Carson. Dermex-P actually youthens every cell in your body! Wrinkles fade, fine lines vanish and your skin is flooded with new moisture — from the inside out.

Doctors say Dermex-P is so effective, that in most cases, there’s no reason for anyone to go “under the knife”. It just works better! And because you take phytoceramides orally (through the mouth) instead of topically (on the skin), not only will the skin on your face look young — virtually every organ in your body gets younger too.

“I’ve seen some people start taking them and look like a different person just a month later!”

Says supplement manufacturer, Daniel Dembinski; “Doctor Oz was right! Phytoceramides are remarkable! I’ve seen some people start taking them and look like a different person just a month later. I know it sounds crazy but you can’t argue with facts. The pill is a better, more effective method than anything I’ve seen.”

Plastic surgeons aren’t the only ones furious about the U.S. release of Dermex-P. Hollywood execs are nervous about the launch too.

Celebrities make their fortunes on their looks. It’s what separates them from us. And today, the younger you look, the more acting jobs you get. Surgery and estheticians give celebs the edge over us mortal folk. But if everyone looked younger, Hollywood execs fear their stars may lose their appeal.

“It hydrates old skin to identically mimic the skin of people in their early 20’s”

Until recently, unless your name was Angelina Jolie; or you were married to Donald Trump, you had no idea what phytoceramides were. But now with the public release of Dermex-P; phytoceramides are available to all-- and shockingly affordable too.

Aging is Inevitable, Wrinkles are Not!

According to top plastic surgeons, Dr. Shirley Madhere and Dr. Leif Rogers, phytoceramides work underneath your skin to reverse aging. It’s instantly absorbed into the bloodstream, and is carried directly to the inner and outermost layers of your skin - restoring it on a cellular level. It just makes a lot more sense than other methods.

“This will undoubtedly have a tremendous impact on the future of cosmetic surgery. It has to.

Dermex-P is drastically cheaper in comparison. And it gives you shockingly similar results,” says one successful Beverly Hill’s surgeon. “The medical community is up in arms because the average cost of a facelift is about ten thousand dollars; and the recovery time is painful and can take as much as 2-3 weeks! We will soon start to see the trend steering away from medical procedures to a safer, more inexpensive solution like Dermex-P.”

The distributor of Dermex-P is offering a 100% Risk-FREE 30-day trial supply to anyone who asks. They say, it’s the best way for people to see for themselves how well it works. Try it for 30 days — if your wrinkles don’t disappear from your entire face and neck, return the bottle, even if totally empty. You’ll be completely refunded — no questions asked. But no one’s promising this offer will stay open forever. Considering the demand for Dermex-P, the FREE trial supply could prove too costly for the company to keep up with. That’s why it’s important to call now before the FREE trial is no longer available.

We will also send you a FREE GIFT just for trying Dermex-P and of course you are backed by our unconditional 30 Day Money Back Guarantee on all of our products. It’s that easy! Call 1-800-717-7348 now before this offer is closed forever.
